

Four Causes

One of the most important parts of Aristotle's philosophy is how he describes the move from potentiality (ideas) to actuality (reality). For something to exist there must be four causes. Complete the notes based on what your teacher has said and use the idea of a house as an example to show your understanding.

